Editorial Review

Review

"This textbook presents essential cardiopulmonary concepts in a well organized, clearly stated format. The concepts are further clarified with detailed illustrations, tables and examples of mathematical calculations. Clinical Connections throughout the chapters challenge students to apply their new knowledge and help them envision the clinical usefulness of these (sometimes difficult) concepts." Meg Trumpp, MEd, RRT, AE-C , Program Director, Respiratory Care Newman University Wichita, KS

"I am excited about this manuscript and hope that it quickly becomes a new edition for use. The clinical connections are a wonderful addition and along with the colorful, accurate graphics make this a valuable addition to any textbook collection." Stacia E. Biddle, Assistant Professor of Respiratory Therapy, The University of Akron, Akron, OH
